

Public
Agency

presents

Disrupting Data Injustice

Meet + Greet with Renée Cummings

Tuesday, November 15, 2022

5-6:30 PM

How can data influence racial disparities in criminal justice, education, employment, healthcare and other community systems?

Public Agency at WMCAT welcomes Renée Cummings, a leading criminologist and data ethicist, into our space as part of her week-long conversation in Grand Rapids on how data injustice can be disrupted.

Join us at for a free, informal networking opportunity to connect with her and others interested in criminal justice, data science, or promoting equitable practices in technology. (No registration required.)

About the Speaker

Renée Cummings is a criminologist and international criminal justice consultant who specializes in Artificial Intelligence (AI); ethical AI, bias in AI, diversity and inclusion in AI, algorithmic authenticity and accountability, data integrity and equity, AI for social good and social justice in AI policy and governance. She is currently the Data Activist in Residence at the University of Virginia's School of Data Science. For more details, visit her bio here.

West Michigan Center for Arts + Technology
614 First Street NW, #300
Grand Rapids, MI 49504

Metered parking is available on the streets surrounding WMCAT (entrance on First Street). Paid parking is also available in the lot connected to Bridge Street Market (entrance on Seward Avenue and park on second floor). Questions? Email us at publicagency@wmcats.org.